JURY IS SECURED IN CASE ALLEGED CATTLE RUSTLERS

FIRST WITNESS IS CALLED BY THE STATE AND TESTIMONY IS TAKEN

The case of the state of Nevada vs. Nick Vico and Jerry Kommnige, who are charged with a felony, the crime of killing cattle, was again taken up in the district court this morning after a continuance from last evening.

The jury was secured yesterday afternoon and is composed of the following:

Hugh H. Sutherland, John Hausan, Duncan McCrimmon, Irving Macdonald, E. J. Briggs, H. A. Fink, August Anderson, Martin Dean, Jas. A. McDaid, Dan H. McNeil, Allen Hardester and Ed Harmer.

The first witness called by the state this morning was O. K. Reed, who swore to the complaint, charging the defendants with killing his cattle. He identified the pelt of a calf that had been sold to W. G. Cook by the defendants, as the skin of a calf that had belonged to him.

W. G. Cook was called to the stand after Reed and stated that he knew both Reed and the accused men. Cook said that Vico and Kommnige came to his place of business at Silver Bow several weeks ago and said they had a veal to sell and asked him if he would take a portion of it. He said he would take all of the calf they could spare. He assisted in carrying the carcass of the dead animal from the wagon and dressed the same. The hide of the calf was shown to the witness who examined the pelt and stated that it was the same he took from the animal several weeks ago.

Cook told of tracing the tracks of the two men from his store to the tree where they had taken the entrails out of the calf. This was easily done, said the witness, as several inches of snow was on the ground. As several witnesses have been subpoenaed to testify at the trial it is doubtful if the case will go to the jury before tomorrow afternoon.

LONDON, June 14.—Fifteen hundred Italians were killed Wednesday when they were driven from Trebbia by the Turks, according to a dispatch received today from Tripoli.

HALIFAX SHAFT IS NOW FORTY FEET INTO NEW LEDGE OF QUARTZ ORE

Conditions Very Encouraging and Good Values Are Expected As Depth Is Attained

With the Halifax shaft having attained a depth of 1300 feet, the last 40 feet of which is in ledge matter, the lowest workings this afternoon failed to penetrate the footwall. Superintendent S. H. Brady visited the property today and was extremely optimistic over the showings as viewed by him.

At the 1265-foot level the shaft cut through the rhyolite into the large quartz vein. The ledge is highly oxidized and carries small values at the point of discovery. Owing to the oxidation it has been the opinion of Superintendent Brady that the values were leached and penetrated the lower portion of the body.

The hanging wall side of the body dips 36 degrees to the north. Owing to the absence of the footwall it has been impossible to determine the dip of that side. The strike of the vein is due east and west.

"It is possible that the ledge of quartz lies on the contact between the rhyolite and earlier andesite known to exist beneath the body," declared Superintendent Brady in discussing the developments of the property. However, it may prove to be the Belmont ledge but that will remain to be determined later. It is impossible to predict that it is really the Belmont ledge without first carrying out a certain amount of development work. The shaft first broke into the quartz body about ten days ago and is now making progress in search of the foot wall at a rate of about four feet a day.

"The shaft will be continued to the 1400-foot level where we expect to encounter the andesite or lode bearing porphyry. At that point crosscutting will be started and the first development work yet undertaken will be commenced. Station timbers are on the ground and everything in readiness for the cutting out of the station. A little water has been encountered of late but the amount is not sufficient to delay the sinking and I do not figure on installing a station pump until we reach the 1400-foot level."

"A new hoist has been ordered and is now being constructed by the Wellman Seaver & Morgan company of Cleveland Ohio. The hoist will have a capacity of 3000 feet and will be sufficient to answer our needs for at least several years to come."

As the shaft continues through the new quartz ledge the values show a slight increase in value. The increase substantiates the belief that the metals have been leached through the oxidizing process and it is possible that a good grade of ore will be found when the foot wall is reached.

ELKS WILL HOLD PUBLIC SERVICES AT HALL TONIGHT

FLAG EXERCISES WILL BE OPEN TO PUBLIC AND GENERAL INVITATION ISSUED

Flag day services, one of the most impressive ceremonies in the public ritual of the Elks' lodge, will be fittingly observed this evening at the Elks' hall. The services are open to the public and will start at 8 o'clock sharp. The committee having in charge the program completed its labors yesterday and has arranged many interesting and impressive numbers. A special invitation has been issued to the public to be in attendance and it is requested that all children in Tonopah also be present.

The purpose of Flag day is to inculcate into the minds of the younger generation additional respect and reverence for the national emblem of this country. The exercises will be patriotic in nature and it is fitting that they should be held by the Elks—an organization distinctive American in which the flag of this country plays a leading part.

Judge Mark R. Averill will deliver the principal address this evening while P. E. Keeler will deliver the Elks' tribute to the flag. Pupils from the Tonopah school have been drilled in several choruses by Professor Yoeder and will render the vocal selections. The school band will be in attendance and render several patriotic airs.

The Elks' lodges throughout America will unite today in observing the occasion, making it more elaborate than in past years. As the United States is the most patriotic nation in the world, the services of the day will be witnessed by millions of people.

CHICAGO, June 14.—Governor Hiram Johnson of California will advise a woman's suffrage plank in the national platform.
